Cookie Policy

What are cookies?

Cookies are small text files that a website stores on your device (computer, tablet, or mobile phone) to remember your preferences and improve the user experience. They enable the proper operation of the site, the analysis of traffic and the adaptation of the content to your interests.

By using this website, you consent to the use of cookies. If you want to disable them, you can do so in your browser settings, but keep in mind that certain functionalities of the site may not work properly.

What types of cookies do we use?

The following types of cookies are used on our website:

- Necessary cookies – These cookies ensure the proper functioning of the website, enable navigation and basic functions such as login or security settings. Without these cookies, the site cannot function properly.

- Analytics cookies – We use Google Analytics to analyze site traffic and understand how visitors use our content. These cookies help to improve the site, and the information collected is anonymous.

- Third-party cookies – Some sites may display third-party content, such as videos from YouTube or maps from Google Maps, which use their own cookies for the services to function properly. Also, Joomla uses session and cart cookies for the proper operation of the system.

How to manage cookies?

Most web browsers allow you to manage cookies through the settings, where you can block or delete them. If you want to disable the storage of cookies, you can do so in your browser settings:
